

HOW TO MAKE A PROTEST PRESS POSTER!

Hello, we're Protest Press, a design collective championing creativity for good. Part of what we do includes running workshops for the public. During these workshops, we encourage participants to find their voice and use their creativity to make their own protest posters. We'd love to share with you our quick and easy method, so here is a step-by-step guide on how to make a Protest Press poster...

- 01 Think about what you want to say!
Choose a phrase of around 3—5 words (the shorter the better!)
- 02 Pick your background. A3 or A4 coloured paper/card works best.
- 03 Prep the strips. Collect together any coloured paper you have (even plain paper works). Cut into long strips ranging from 1 to 3 cm in width.
- 04 Now fold your strips of paper into letters and lay-out on your poster (make sure your letters aren't too big so they all fit. If your word is long, we'd suggest a landscape poster).
- 05 Once you have folded all your words and are happy with the layout, stick them down with pritt-stick.

You now have your Protest Press poster. Remember to share with as many people as possible and please tag us @protestpress, we love to see all the creations!
